Judge Wall was born in Milwaukee, Wisconsin, and grew up in southeastern Wisconsin. He graduated from the University of Texas in 1982 with a bachelor's degree in journalism and worked in radio and television broadcasting in Texas and Louisiana before enrolling in law school.

In 1986 he graduated from the Marquette University Law School in Milwaukee in the top third of his class. That same year he moved to Las Vegas and passed the Nevada Bar Exam. He worked for a prominent civil litigation firm until entering the criminal justice system as a Deputy Public Defender in 1987.

Over the past 16 years, Judge Wall has worked at the highest levels of the criminal justice system, as both a prosecutor and a defense attorney. He also has worked for several years in the area of civil litigation with two separate prominent firms.

He was hired by the Clark County District Attorney's Office in 1996 and became a Chief Deputy District Attorney. From 1997 to 2001, he was a member of the elite Major Violators Unit in the District Attorney's Office, which prosecutes primarily homicide and other high profile cases. During that time, he teamed with District Attorney David Roger in the successful prosecution of Richard Tabish and Sandra Murphy for the murder of Ted Binion.

Judge Wall is active in the community, as a member of the Las Vegas Founders Club and the Chamber of Commerce Leadership Las Vegas program. He also volunteers as a radio commentator for the UNLV Lady Rebels basketball program.
