

On Target for Family Fun!

Women of High Caliber – User Group

A 2009 study found 70 percent of gun shop owners reported more female buyers. The study, conducted by the National Shooting Sports Foundation and Southwick Associates, also found

- 80 percent of the female gun-buyers who responded said they purchased a gun for self-defense, followed by
- 35 percent for target practice and
- 24 percent for hunting

The goal of Women of High Caliber is to provide a safe atmosphere for women to learn about or improve shooting firearms. Whether you're an experienced shooter or have never held a gun in your life, this is the place to go if you want to learn more, or just practice and enjoy the camaraderie of other women and the great outdoors at the beautiful new facilities of the Clark County Shooting Range.

Women of High Caliber, a Clark County Shooting Range group, meets regularly on the last Thursday of each month beginning Thursday, September 29, 2011 at the range at 6:00pm. Meetings will include fun activities and education in addition to range shooting.

Our Vision

Women of High Caliber was formed by women to encourage all women to become involved in the shooting sports in a friendly, supportive, environment.
