

Government Center Rotunda Gallery

–Sept 21-Nov 13, 2015

Rebecca Pugh

Reception and Artist Talk Date: Friday, September, 25, 6-8 PM

Rebecca Pugh plans to exhibit 5 freestanding paintings for the rotunda. Based on desert landscapes, Pugh's paintings are created by covering strips of old bed linens with acrylic paint and then attaching those colored strips to large, hand-built wooden structures.

Winchester Cultural Center Gallery

--Nov 17, 2015-Jan 8, 2016

West from Home

Valentin Yordanov

Reception Date: Friday, November 20 from 5:30 - 7:30 pm

Valentin Yordanov's "West from Home" is a series of mixed-media paintings depicting non-spaces. His dynamic landscapes layer twisting graphic lines with boldly colored shapes to create a familiar, yet abstract world.

Winchester Cultural Center Gallery

–Jan 19-Mar 11, 2016

Ignominious Refuse

Brent Holmes

Reception Date: Friday, January 22 from 5:30 - 7:30 pm

"Ignominious Refuse" focuses on the Latin ideologies of epicurean ideals through the philosophical views of Lucretius. Polaroids and digital images will be on view along with an installation of Doric columns.

Government Center Rotunda Gallery

–Feb 1- Mar 4, 2016

CONNECTED FUTURE

Audrey Barcio

Reception and Artist Talk Date: Friday, February 5, 6-8 PM

“Connected Future” will feature seven reflective triangular towers. The 7ft towers will stand above most viewers, but look miniature in relation to the vastness of the County’s Government Rotunda. The installation will highlight our relationships to architecture and its lasting impact on our culture.

Government Center Rotunda Gallery

–Mar 12-May 6, 2015

Christopher Bauder

Reception and Artist Talk Date: Friday, March 18, 6-8 PM

Bauder plans to install a colorful tumbleweed mass within the Rotunda Gallery. The collection of altered tumbleweeds recreates the common accumulation of the dead plants seen during the artist’s frequent travel between Las Vegas and Los Angeles, and calls attention to the object’s fascinating process of spreading seed while simultaneously collecting material during its travels.

Winchester Cultural Center Gallery

--May 3-June 24, 2016

Rachel Stiff

Reception Date: Friday, May 6 from 5:30 - 7:30 pm

Rachel Stiff’s abstract, landscape-inspired paintings offer the viewer an exploration of forms that suggest interlacing clouds, sunlight, rocks, and landforms. Broad colorful brushstrokes intertwine with swatches of varying textures and allow the audience to relate to the paintings based on their own experiences.

Government Center Rotunda Gallery

--May 16-July 8, 2016

Myranda Bair

Reception and Artist Talk Date: Friday, May 20, 6-8 PM

An exhibition of mock-terrariums featuring tiny giants of the desert, such as a horned lizard, speckled toad and tarantula along with native plants, insects and rocks. Viewers, themselves like specimens on display within the giant, dome-like Rotunda Gallery, can empathize with their Southern Nevada cohabitants.

Winchester Cultural Center Gallery

–July 5 -Aug 19, 2016

A Visual Language

Eric Vozzola

Reception Date: Friday, July 8 from 5:30 - 7:30 pm

This new series of paintings by Eric Vozzola plays with the concept of everything in the universe being connected through energy. Applying this understanding to art, from the beginning of time to now, the artist utilizes “a visual language” that has remained constant throughout. Vozzola’s street art-inspired paintings utilize patterns and symmetry to relate back to ancient cave paintings and stimulate viewers with universal visual cues.

Government Center Rotunda Gallery

–July 18-Sept 8, 2016

Christopher Adam Jones

Reception and Artist Talk Date: Friday, July 22, 6-8 PM

A centrally placed 10ft high by 4ft wide column collaged with collected handbills, posters, printed matter and other ephemera from the artist’s downtown neighborhood creates an evolving dialogue between the audience and the city. Split into three sections, the column’s middle section spins-- inviting viewer interaction.

Winchester Cultural Center Gallery

–Aug 29-Oct 14, 2016

Impressionable Air

Gail Gilbert

Reception Date: Friday, September 2 from 5:30 - 7:30 pm

Wind is portrayed in sculptural form in Gail Gilbert's "Impressionable Air" at Winchester Gallery. The fabric sculptures appear to be in the midst of a gust of air, evoking emotion and capturing the ethereality of wind.