Question 2: BJA Areas of Emphasis

BJA recognizes that many state and local justice systems currently face challenging fiscal environments and an important, cost-effective way to relieve those pressures is to share or leverage resources through cooperation among federal, state, and local, tribal, and territorial (SLTT) law enforcement.

NEW FROM FY25 NOFO: BJA encourages SLTT recipients of FY25 JAG funding to join federal law enforcement agencies in addressing the following challenges:

Combatting Violent Crime: JAG funds may be used to implement, enhance, or expand projects that combat violent crime. This should include directly supporting law enforcement operations. Specific activities could include addressing human trafficking of American citizens; dismantling criminal gangs, street crews, and drug networks, including drug manufacturing, dealing, and trafficking; and cracking down on the open use of illegal drugs. State and local agencies are encouraged to coordinate with their United States Attorneys and Project Safe Neighborhoods grantees in order to leverage JAG funding for violence reduction projects, to include the DOJ Operation Take Back America to eliminate cartels and transnational criminal organizations; and to coordinate their law enforcement activities with those of federal law enforcement agencies such as the Federal Bureau of Investigation (FBI), the Bureau of Alcohol, Tobacco, Firearms and Explosives (ATF), the Drug Enforcement Administration, the United States Marshals Service, and the Department of Homeland Security.

Further, state and local agencies may use JAG funds to protect the public, critical infrastructure, mass gathering events, and public facilities from threats posed by the careless or unlawful use of unmanned aircraft systems (UAS) as well as to interrupt drug cartels use of UAS for smuggling and surveilling law enforcement, to include purchase of UAS (see BJA's UAS page for prior approval requirements before using JAG funds for UAS or counter-UAS) or equipment or services for the detection, tracking, or identification of drones and drone signals.

Immigration Enforcement: State and local agencies may use JAG funds to partner with federal law enforcement on immigration enforcement operations (e.g., information sharing, 287(g) partnerships, task forces, and honoring detainees), protecting critical infrastructures, and information/intelligence problems.

Safe Communities: State and local agencies may use JAG funds to support services to American citizens and American victims of crime to create safe communities. JAG funds can be used to collaborate with federal law enforcement and task forces to address endemic vagrancy and encampments that create safe havens for drugs, crime, and human trafficking. Additionally, state and local agencies may use JAG funds to focus on improving public order and quality of life through enforcement and prosecution of nuisance abatement and blight including, among other things, petty larceny and criminal damage to property, as well as utilization of maximally flexible civil commitment, institutional treatment, and step-down treatment standards to address untreated mental health and substance use disorders. JAG funds may also be used to support American victims of trafficking and sexual assault.

Safe Houses of Worship: State and local agencies may use JAG funds to respond to and deter threats to houses of worship and other religious institutions, including religious schools. Religious institutions have recently been targeted for acts of violence and desecration. These organizations typically lack sufficient security resources to respond to heightened threats. State and local law enforcement support to houses of worship, religious schools, and other religious institutions is an effective way to combat such threats.

SMARTSHEET RESPONSE #2: Please identify the area of emphasis that matches with the proposed project. Select none of the above if the project does not match an area of emphasis. Note: Projects may still be considered for funding through LLEAC even if “none of the above” is selected.

These were the FY24 Areas of Emphasis for reference:

- Prevention and Prosecution of Hate Crimes
- Election Security
- Enhancing Justice System Reform Strategies
- Advancing Equity and Support for Underserved Communities
- Violent Crime Reduction

BJA encourages recipients of JAG funds to consider coordination with Federal law enforcement agencies and other stakeholders, including communities most impacted by crime and violence.
